

About ENSHPO

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT ENSHPO

The European Network of Safety and Health Professional Organisations, established in 2001, helps bring health and safety professional organisations from European countries together.

Membership of ENSHPO is aimed at professional Occupational Safety and Health Organisations in Europe.

Who is ENSHPO?

- ★ A network of professional organisations representing over 57,000 individual OSH practitioners in 19 European countries
- ★ A European platform that partners with other European Networks
- ★ The architects of the European-wide recognised certification – EurOSHM and EurOSHT

Vision

ENSHPO is the leading voice of the OSH professionals in Europe to promote safety and health at work and engage with decision makers and regulators.

Mission

- ★ To provide qualified reference and guidance to OSH Professional Organisations in Europe for safety deployment and best practice sharing
- ★ To be stakeholder for EU regulators to set harmonised competences of OSH practitioners
- ★ To foster cooperation between European Health and Safety professional Organisations and develop initiatives that will improve health, safety and wellbeing in each ENSHPO member country.

Our projects

- ★ Share best practice
- ★ European certification standards EurOSHM and EurOSHT, already bridged to EQF by EUSAFE project
- ★ The European Safety card
- ★ Create networking opportunities for our members through key OSH events
- ★ Establish cooperation and Seek to influence key stakeholders within Europe
- ★ Enhance integration and cooperation between EU Bodies and local regulators with respect to OSH professional aspects

Meetings

ENSHPO members meet twice a year at locations around Europe, in spring and in autumn time. This is an opportunity for members to discuss key OSH topics and shape the development of the Network.

We usually invite guest speakers from the European Agency, and other OSH professional networks. Meetings are held in English due to the multilingual nature of the network.
